

What is important to me as a mentor

- People I mentor walk away from our time together feeling confident and competent in their ability to lead.
- To create a positive and inviting learning environment.
- People I mentor trust that I will do all that I can to help them grow and develop.
- To mentor goal oriented people, who want to make a difference in people lives.
- To provide clear expectations and a plan on how to meet those expectations.
- People I mentor see the value in Person Centered Thinking across all lifespans
- Honesty and truthfulness are critical for our relationship.

How to best support me as a mentor

- Always be honest and straightforward with me, trust is built on honesty.
- If at any point you need clarification ask me rather than assume.
- If there is a conflict with the schedule, contact me as soon as possible so we can plan accordingly.
- I strongly believe in collaboration, contact me to process and talk thru situations if your needing assistance.
- Provide me with clear feedback if something is not working for you.
- Please follow through with your commitments so you are prepared for our time together.
- “Walk the talk”
- There is a learning cycle, allow yourself to be vulnerable and open to receiving new information.
- Have fun! Realize you are part of something bigger than yourself.
